Department. Head Administrative and White Collar Litigation Department

Adv. Mazor is Head of the Administrative and White Collar Litigation Department.

Over the years, Adv. Mazor accumulated significant experience and reputation in the 'white collar' field. He provides ongoing legal counsel to executives from the public and business sectors in investigations and legal proceedings related to bribery and corruption charges, money laundering offenses, environmental law, military offenses, international offenses, antitrust law, securities law, and more. Adv. Mazor possesses extensive experience in providing legal counsel to military and other security personnel relating to inquiry and review committees, and in their representation in proceedings related to security offenses.

Adv. Mazor possesses unique expertise in managing legal proceedings conducted in foreign countries. He works alongside local lawyers in cases relating to Israeli citizens and corporations, including extradition proceedings.

In recent years, Adv. Mazor was involved in managing multiple high-profile, complex legal proceedings which drew extensive public interest. Among his clients are leading Israeli and international corporations that operate in the infrastructure, real estate, defense, transport, retail, and other sectors, as well as government owned companies and executives from the public sector.

Adv Mazor specializes in managing complex disputes in the civil-commercial litigation field, as well as administrative litigation, petitions to the High Court of Justice and various administrative proceedings.

In the field of civil law, Adv. Mazor provides ongoing legal counsel to his clients - corporations and executives - in large scale commercial disputes. He represents his clients before all courts and tribunals, as well as in alternative dispute settlement proceedings.

Alongside his professional work, Adv. Mazor lectured on criminal law at Bar-Ilan University and Sha'arei Mishpat College, and lectures in the senior management and directors course at Bar-Ilan University. He also occasionally lectures at professional seminars of the Israel Bar Association.
